Who May Want to Invest

The Fund may be an appropriate investment for investors seeking professional management of their retirement account assets.

About Risk

The Fund invests in mutual Funds, exchange traded funds, and collective investment funds. The Fund is subject to market risk, meaning that the value of the Fund's investments may decline over time, causing a reduction in the value of the Fund.

Principal Investment Risks: As with all investment strategies, there is the risk that you could lose money through your investment in the Fund. Many factors affect the Fund's net asset value and performance. The following risks may apply to an investment in the Fund.

Management and Strategy Risk: The value of your investment depends on the judgment of the Fund's Investment Manager about the quality, relative yield, value or market trends affecting a particular security, industry, sector or region, which may prove to be incorrect. Investment strategies employed by the Fund's Investment Manager in selecting investments for the Fund may not result in an increase in the value of your investment or in overall performance equal to other investments. The Investment Manager's strategies for preserving capital in down markets may not be successful and may not produce better results than a more traditional buy-and-hold strategy.

Objective Risk: There is no guarantee that a Fund will reach its stated objectives.

Investment Style Risk: There is the chance that returns from the types of investments and asset classes in which the Fund is most heavily weighted will trail returns from the overall stock market.

Limited History of Operations: The R. T. Jones Collective Investment Trust and its associated Fund is a new offering and there is a limited history of operations for investors to evaluate.

Expense Risk: Prior to making an investment in a Fund, investors should carefully consider the Fund's expenses and how those expenses may reduce overall investment performance.

Market Risk: The market price of a security or instrument may decline, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably, due to general market conditions that are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic or political conditions throughout the world, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates, or adverse investor sentiment generally. The market value of a security or instrument also may decline because of factors that affect a particular industry or industries, such as labor shortages or increased production costs and competitive conditions within an industry.

Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) and Mutual Fund Risk: ETFs and mutual funds are subject to investment advisory and other expenses, which will be indirectly paid by the Fund and are in addition to the Fund's own expenses. As a result, the cost of investing in the Fund will be higher than the cost of investing directly in an ETF or mutual fund and may be higher than other mutual funds and collective investment funds that invest directly in stocks. An ETF's shares may trade at a market price above or below its net asset value and an active (or liquid) trading market for an ETF's shares may not develop or be maintained.

Other Risks: This list of risks is not comprehensive and the Fund may be subject to other risks not specified in this Investor Disclosure.

Artesys Global Defensive Growth

Fund Objective: Short-term capital preservation through systematic risk adjustments that seek to limit downside capture and long-term capital appreciation through broad diversification and active management.

Fund Strategy: The strategy actively manages equity selection and allocation through quantitative modeling and tactically adjusts equity exposure through proprietary algorithms overlaid on equity asset classes. When fully invested, the Fund is allocated 100% to equities. Market conditions drive asset class specific momentum and volatility-based trading criteria that could result in equity exposures between 0-100% of the assets of the Fund. Sell criteria in an asset class result in the transfer of assets to cash and/or debt securities until subsequent buy criteria is met. The tactical adjustments in the strategy could result in the Fund being fully, partially, or not invested in equities, with the balance in cash and/or debt securities.
